

Shifting Landscape

In the five years following the 2000 census, 73 congressional districts shrank in population while 69 grew by more than 10 percent. Districts with the largest percentage gains and losses are listed on the right.

Fastest growing
Pa. 14

Fastest shrinking
Ohio 11

N.Y. 28

Boston

New York

Philadelphia

Fastest growing		NET GAIN	PCT.
Ariz.	6 Flake (R)	+232,704	+36.3%
Ariz.	2 Franks (R)	+218,296	+34.0
New	3 Porter (R)	+213,847	+32.1
Fla.	5 Brown-Waite (R)	+172,046	+26.9
Calif.	44 Calvert (R)	+151,903	+23.8
Texas	10 McCaul (R)	+152,433	+23.4
Texas	22 Lampson (D)	+147,482	+22.6
Texas	3 Johnson, Sam (R)	+145,683	+22.4
Fla.	14 Mack (R)	+138,326	+21.6
Calif.	45 Bono (R)	+138,013	+21.6
Fastest shrinking		NET LOSS	PCT.
Ohio	11 Jones (D)	-57,410	-9.1%
Mich.	13 Kilpatrick (D)	-52,656	-7.9
Ill.	9 Schakowsky (D)	-51,906	-7.9
Pa.	2 Fatteh (D)	-48,089	-7.4
Pa.	14 Doyle (D)	-47,725	-7.4
N.Y.	28 Slaughter (D)	-46,726	-7.1
Mich.	14 Conyers (D)	-44,289	-6.7
Ill.	5 Emanuel (D)	-33,260	-5.1
Calif.	8 Palcos (D)	-32,374	-5.1
Ind.	7 Carson (D)	-34,048	-5.0

*No 2005 district population estimates are available for the states that have redistricted since the 109th Congress (all of Georgia, and Texas districts 15, 21, 23, 25, and 28).

SOURCES: Polidata; Almanac of American Politics 2008